

“WHEN TRUTH IS PUT IN INTOLERABLE PERIL”

“When a liar gratuitously offered the same status before the court as the truth teller, truth is put in intolerable peril.” Dr. Thomas Oden

“Contemporary moral relativism asserts that every assertion of truth has intrinsically equal integrity and plausibility”

“Contemporary moral relativism leads to the concept of ‘alternative facts.’ Truth no longer is based on facts but on the perspective of the individual.”

Pastor McCreary

‘Alternative facts’ happens only in a “sick conviction-less moral ethos where the search for truth has been abandoned, where an absolute relativism prevails—where all assertion start from the assumption that they are credible however deceptive they may be.”

Absolute relativism holds that there is no universal, objective truth or morality; what is right or wrong depends entirely on individual or cultural perspectives.

However, this leads to a contradiction: claiming that all truth is relative is itself an absolute statement, undermining relativism by contradicting its core premise.

“When falsehood is valued equally with truth, the question of truth is not even seriously acknowledged as pertinent to the human future.”
Therefore, “Tolerance of evil becomes a virtue.” Dr. Thomas Oden
